MADISON.

Population, 23,000. The capital of the state of Wisconsin, and the county seat of Dane county, is on the C., M. & St. P. Ry., on the C. & N. W. Ry., and on the Illinois Central R. R., 82 miles from Milwaukee, 38 from Janesville, 130 from Chicago, and 270 from St. Paul. Situated between the two most prominent of the cluster of lakes which flow into and form a part of the head waters of Rock river. The site, upon which the city of Madison is located, early attracted attention by its picturesque position and surroundings, situated midway between Lake Michigan and the Mississippi river. As a center of prospective population, it was chosen for the Territorial capital in 1837, when not even a log cabin existed for many miles around to distinguish it from the wilderness. The central portion surrounding the Capitol Park occupies a square mile of undulating land, reaching upon the lake ridges and varying from 50 to 75 feet above water level. Its progress has been gradual, and at the present time Madison boasts of the beauty and elegance of public and private buildings worthy of the appellation of the "Gem City," so generally accorded to it by tourists and visitors. While enjoying the luxuries of refined city life, its private residences, the best of them distributed along the eminences of the lake ridges, afford a quiet retirement, reminding the observer of rural life among the many charming spots on the Hudson. The proximity of the numerous lakes, with living springs for their supply, accounts for a humidity of atmosphere during the heated summer season, wanting in some popular resorts which are swept by the arid atmosphere from surrounding prairies. Its mineral springs are claimed to possess high medicinal virtues. Madison emerged from village to city life in 1856, and has become a center of attraction, especially during the sessions of the Legislature. The State University, the principal buildings of which are situated upon an eminence a mile west of the Capitol, is within a park comprising 375 acres of land, including 195 donated by Dane county towards the agricultural department. The whole cost of the buildings proper belonging to the University, exclusive of the observatory, is estimated at nearly $2,000,000, and a large portion of grounds is laid out in lawns, driveways and plats for experimental agriculture, the whole being overlooked by the Washburn observatory, donated by a former governor, Gen. C. C. Washburn, and already ranking high in the scientific world. The early progress of the University was accompanied with many embarrassments, but finally, fostered by state care and aid, it has come to take an exalted stand among kindred institutions, and its alumni are prominent throughout the United States. Co-education of sexes was inaugurated about 1866 and today about 3,100 students attend this great institution of learning. Madison has ten large public ward schools, with full attendance, and several private schools. A high school, covering academic studies preparatory to the higher branches of the University, is in great favor, and, although occupying a spacious building, it is overcrowded and a new $25,000 building will soon be erected. An excellent circulating free library and reading room occupy the first floor of the City Hall. A $75,000 new library building is in course of construction, the gift of Andrew Carnegie. There is an almirably conducted water system of water works, and a supply of pure water deemed ample for any emergency. The Wisconsin State Hospital for the Insane, 4 miles north of the city, and across Lake Mendota, adds an improving view to the attraction, and helps to complete the scenery, which is Madison's pride. The Monona Lake Assembly, commenced in 1881, after the pattern of Chautauqua, N. Y., has proved highly successful, under the supervision of a non-sectarian organization, it has become a favorite camping ground, where thousands of people, many with whole families, live in the tented field during portions of July and August. The State Historical Society, occupying a magnificent new building in the neighborhood of the University, embraces an immense library, with memoirs, oil portraits of Wisconsin, pioneers and relics of historical interest, unsurpassed by any in the older states. The structure cost $600,000, is one of the best appointed library buildings in the United States; it is constructed of Buff Bedford limestone, and is in the Ionic order of architecture. The State library is devoted solely to law and is under the direction of the justices of the Supreme Court. The Dane county branch of the State Humane Society is located here. Among the public societies may be mentioned Masonic, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Modern Woodmen, and the usual temperance organizations; German Turn Verein, Madison Maennerchor, St. Michael's Society, Knights of Columbus, and the C. C. Washburn Post, No. 11, of the G. A. R. The city has a municipal court with extra judicial power, a uniformed police force, and a well-equipped fire department. The State Supreme Court, U. S. Circuit and local courts give Madison a prominence in litigation, and attract the highest legal talent to the Capital City. The railroads leading into the city from eight different directions make it a railroad center, accessible from all portions of the state. The C. & N. W. Ry., the C., M. & St. P. and the Illinois Central have handsome and commodious passenger depots at this place. There are churches representing the following religious denominations: Congregational, Methodist, Roman Catholic, Episcopal, Presbyterian, Baptist, Unitarian, German Catholic, German Presbyterian, German Lutheran, Norwegian Lutheran and Christian Science; the three first named may be said to be the most imposing structures. Five banks are located here, all in good standing, First National, State Bank, Bank of Wisconsin, German-American Bank, Capital City Bank and a Trust Company. The Wisconsin State Journal and the Madison Democrat are published daily and weekly, the Cardinal (daily), Alumni Magazine (monthly) and Sphinx (irregular), are conducted by the students of the University; the Wisconsin Botschafter, Amerika, Madisonian, Northwestern Mail, Wisconsin Farmer and Wisconsin Staats-Zeitung are weekly issues; the Wisconsin Journal of Education, American Thresherman and Christian Endeavor are published monthly, and the Wisconsin Engineer quarterly. The Fuller Opera House, with a seating capacity of 1,200, is one of the finest structures of the kind in the northwest. The American and U. S. Express Cos. have local offices here; also the Western Union Telegraph Co. and Postal Telegraph-Cable Co. Two systems of telephone and one of electric lighting are in operation. An electric street railway connects the outskirts with the business center. Elisha W. Keyes, postmaster.

MANITOWOC.

Population, 12,000. The judicial seat of Manitowoc county, has a picturesque and commercial location seldom combined or excelled. Located in a rich farming section, on the shore of Lake Michigan, on the Wisconsin Central Ry., and at the crossing of the C. & N. W. Ry., over the Manitowoc river. It has a harbor a mile in length, improved and strengthened by two parallel piers, 250 feet apart and 2,470 feet long, built by the United States government at a cost of $375,000. With such a harbor, open through the year, vessel trade with the parts to the south is never interrupted, and during the winter season Manitowoc is recognized as one of the best ship yard cities on Lake Michigan. Incorporated as a city in 1870, it has had a steady growth. The industries of the city are varied and extensive, but the possibilities are far from being reached. The city contains a ship yard an excellent dry dock and a floating dock, 3 breweries and large malt houses, 10 cigar factories, an aluminum factory for novelties of all descriptions and aluminum goods, extensive iron works, several wagon factories, 2 coal docks with a capacity of 100,000 tons each, an edge tool manufacturing company, a flouring mill, a tannery, a glue factory, vinegar works, 2 box factories, 3 planing mills, 6 brick yards, 3 canning factories, etc. Two large new grain elevators have recently been built, with a capacity of 2,000,000 bushels. There are 3 banks and 3 first-class hotels, while 2 high schools, 2 ward schools and several sectarian schools, give the city a well marked reputation in educational matters. The various religious denominations are represented by 12 churches. The city also contains the spacious County Insane Asylum Hospital, costing $90,000, and the Polish Orphan Asylum, which cost $15,000. Five newspapers—English and German—are published. The shipments constitute large quantities of leather, flour, grain, cheese, etc. Stages to Rosecrans and intermediate points daily. Telephone connections. Tel., W. U. Exp., Am. and National. Henry G. Kress, postmaster.

MARINETTE.

Population, 17,000. The judicial seat of county of same name, is a prosperous city, located at the mouth of the Menomonie river, on the shore of Green Bay, opposite the city of Menominee, Mich., with which it is connected by several steam railway lines, electric street railway and two wagon bridges. The river is navigable for heavy draught vessels two miles from its mouth. Marinette has been one of the largest lumber producing centers for 30 years in the northwest. Its location on the Menominee gives it, with its twin city, the control of the vast water power of this great river, which is particularly valuable to manufacturers. Three railroads enter the city, the C. & N W. Ry., the C., M. & St. P. Ry. (depots 100 yards apart), and the Wis. & Mich. Ry. The Menominee & St. Paul Ry. is projected, starting from this point, and making an air line to St. Paul. The city contains Presbyterian, Methodist Episcopal, Christian Science, Lutheran, three Catholic, Norwegian, Swedish, German and Baptist churches, 7 large graded schools and high school, an academy, St. Mary's Institute, a large, well-appointed court house, a city hall and opera house. There are two national banks, paper and pulp mill, several large saw mills, A. W. Stevens' factory for the manufacture of steam threshers, etc. The city is lighted by gas and electricity, and the main streets are paved with shale, brick and cedar blocks, has 12 miles of sewer mains, and an excellent sewer system, which includes a $25,000 filter plant. The fire department is noted for its completeness and efficiency. The press is represented by the daily and weekly North Star (Republican), the Forposten and the Marinette Tribune, Swedish; and the Volksbote, German. Tel., Postal and W. U. Exp., Am. and U. S. Lewis S. Patrick, postmaster.

MERRILL.

Population, 10,000. An incorporated city located on the Wisconsin river, and on the C., M. & St. P. Ry., in Lincoln county, of which it is the county seat, 170 miles (air line) northwest of Milwaukee, and 18 north of Wausau. It has broad and well paved streets, is lighted by electricity, has the Holly system of water works, a fire department, an electric street railway, telephone exchange, a handsome city hall and public library building, 2 opera houses, 14 churches, excellent schools, 3 banks, first-class hotels and 4 weekly newspapers, Merrill Advocate (Rep.), Merrill News (Dem.), Star (Ind.), and Wisconsin Thalbote (German). The city is surrounded by an excellent hardwood farming country, which is being rapidly developed, and there are numerous small saw mills for the manufacturing of hardwood lumber. The main industry is the lumbering interest, which is the largest on the Wisconsin river. Exp., U. S. Tel., W. U. C. N. Johnson, postmaster.

MILWAUKEE.

The city of Milwaukee, the metropolis of the State of Wisconsin and the county seat of Milwaukee county, is located on the west shore of Lake Michigan, at the mouth of the Milwaukee river, 85 miles north of Chicago. Milwaukee, being located upon high ground and subjected to the tempering influence of the great body of water upon which it is situated, is not affected by the extremes of heat and cold which tend to produce great discomforts. This fact has had much to do with the making of the reputation which it has acquired as a summer resort, and in spreading its fame as a desirable convention city. For several years Milwaukee has lead American cities in the number of conventions, and as a mecca for the annual pilgrimages of the constantly increasing number of national societies its reputation is constantly extending. Everything about the city tends to enhance this reputation. Its beauty of situation, with its bluffs a hundred feet high looking off over the blue expanse of the lake, its shaded streets lined with majestic public buildings, magnificent business blocks, stately churches, spacious and handsome school buildings, grand mansions and beautiful dwellings; its wooded parks; the elegance and comfort of its hotels; the completeness and availability of its electric railway system, reaching out to the neighboring cities and villages and to the well-known health resorts of Waukesha county; its contiguity to the lake regions of Wisconsin, bringing the fishing and boating facilities within easy reach; its reputation for hospitality, in short, everything which contributes to the comfort and to the pleasure of the tourist can be found in Milwaukee in abundant measure.

POPULATION.

Milwaukee is today a city of 333,500 inhabitants, having grown to this size in the short space of fifty-five years from the 20,000 revealed by the census of 1850. The United States census taken in 1890 determined the population to be 285,315. At the time the census was taken there had been annexed to the city territory containing a population, according to the census, of 3,585, which could not be counted in the city's total because the ninety days required for the publication of the ordinance had not quite elapsed at the time the enumeration was made. The actual population of the city, therefore, was then 288,900, a number which would have placed Milwaukee twelfth in the list of American cities, to which proud position it had advanced from sixteenth in 1890. The natural growth of the city since that date has added more than an additional 44,000 to its numbers, making the total population at this time, on a conservative estimate, what has been above stated—333,500.

TRANSPORTATION.

Superior shipping facilities to the south, west and north are afforded by the Chicago & Northwestern, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul and the Wisconsin Central Railways, with a combined mileage of 16,02[illegible] miles, forming one grand network direct to all points on the Missouri river as far south as Kansas City, and from Fargo to the eastern end of Lake Superior on the north, connecting with all western and southern lines extending to the Pacific coast and Gulf of Mexico.

The great railroad systems operating between Milwaukee and the Atlantic coast are most important factors in solving problems of low rates and quick service for the enormous eastbound tonnage which flows from and through Milwaukee, across and around the lake.

Of these systems, the Grand Trunk and Pere Marquette railways, covering 6,363 miles in Michigan and Canada, operate all the year round, a fleet of six car ferries, with a capacity of 30 cars each from Milwaukee. The seven great trunk lines, namely: The New York Central, Erie, Lehigh Valley, Lackawanna, Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and the Canada-Atlantic railways, reaching from the Atlantic cost westward, own and operate immense fleets of steamers between their western termini and Milwaukee direct.

Of the independent steamship lines, the Goodrich Transportation Company with a fleet of nine, the Barry Bros.' Transportation Company with a fleet of three, the Crosby Transportation Company with two steamers and one car ferry and the Michigan Salt Transportation Company with two splendid freight and passenger steamers operate daily all the year round between Milwaukee and all points north to Mackinaw and south to Chicago on the west shore of Lake Michigan and east to Ludington and Grand Haven. During the season of navigation the Lake Michigan & Lake Superior Transportation Company operates between Milwaukee and points on Lake Superior to Duluth.

MANUFACTURING AND JOBBING.

Milwaukee is the greatest manufacturing city of its size on the continent. It is a natural manufacturing center. To the city's natural advantages, its invigorating climate, an abundant supply of the purest water, nearness to the base of iron and timber supplies and its superior transportation facilities are in a large measure due the city's wonderful forward movement in manufacturing. In 1880 the total products of the city's industries were worth $43,000,000, in 1890 they were worth $106,263,500 and in 1903 they were worth $251,310,000. During recent years the volume of Milwaukee's manufactured products has been to the full capacity of its factories. Large manufacturing conerns in various parts of the country are looking for factory locations in Milwaukee. Statistics of manufacturing show that in 1900 there were 66,788 persons employed in the various manufactories, $31,336,496 were paid in wages, $121,521,808 capital was employed and the value of production was $174,493,778, while in 1903 persons employed numbered 84,722, paid in wages $45,558,191, capital employed was $164,537,395 and value of production $251,310,947.

Five leading lines of manufacturing, from figures compiled for the Milwaukee Sentinel, business of 1903, embracing all features of metal working, all clothing, except boots and shoes, leather and leather working, all brewery products and all meat products, show as follows:

Value of products in:

All metal working industries combined ..... $86,928,723
Percentage of increase over 1902, 8.7%.
All wearing apparel, except boots and shoes ..... 29,747,750
Percentage of increase over 1902, 11.11%.
All leather producing and working industries ..... 27,730,335
Percentage of increase over 1902, 14.4%.
All brewery products ..... 21,917,610
Percentage of increase over 1902, 5.7%.
All meat products ..... 17,436,856
Percentage of increase over 1902, 7.5%.

Its superior transportation facilities insure prompt and cheap delivery of goods to retailers throughout a large part of the northwest. As a wholesale point it surpasses any other city of its size in the country. Its jobbing houses are among the largest in the west and the completeness of their supplies is unsurpassed. They include all staple articles of trade. No other city in the United States can show such a record of increase in wholesale business during the last decade. The total wholesale business of the city from 1896 to 1904 was as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1896 | $176,769,970 | 1900 | $266,069,352 |
| 1897 | 198,710,997 | 1901 | 300,332,297 |
| 1898 | 230,220,573 | 1902 | 326,371,153 |
| 1899 | 254,999,713 | 1903 | 356,693,767 |

in the city has a record of soundness, safety and conservatism which commend them to the highest favor of the financial world.

In the making of loans and discounts the banks are conservative in the sense of safety, but they have been wisely liberal in their dealings with the local industries and have very much aided in promoting the noteworthy manufacturing and commercial progress of the city.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

The organization of the municipal government has been effected on broad and enduring lines and covers all the necessary departments for the protection of life and property, the supplying of public needs in the way of streets and thoroughfares, the REPUBLICAN HOUSE.

The great increase in wholesale business is due to the promptness with which goods are delivered from Milwaukee, to thorough working of the available territory by the jobbers and to absolute fair dealing on their part with all customers.

BANKING.

The city is especially well provided with the facilities of a financial character that are required by its enormous volume of business and it has a number of banks of old established reputation, the financial standing of the city being unsurpassed as to stability. There are 10 banks and 4 trust companies doing a banking business, the aggregate capital of these institutions amounting to $6,575,000. The varied forms of organization represented by these banks make their operations cover a wide scope and meet every need in respect of banking and financial conveniences and every bank prevention and extinguishing of fires, adequate provision for the education of its youth, the administration of public justice and all the features for which city government is organized and operated. The value of the corporate property of Milwaukee exceeds $30,000,000 and includes besides the usual properties of a municipal corporation many splendid school buildings, an imposing and spacious city hall and a Public Library and Museum building, which is acknowledged to be one of the finest in any city in the United States. Mortality statistics demonstrate that Milwaukee is the healthiest city of its size in the world. No other shows so low a death rate. This is in part due to the naturally healthy location. Other reasons for it are the purity of water, excellent sanitary conditions of the city and the most thorough vigilance on the part of the Health Department. It is also an orderly city, according to investigation made by the United States Department of Labor in 1900 Milwaukee heads the list as the most law abiding community of all cities over 200,000 population.

EDUCATIONAL.

In educational matters Milwaukee stands pre-eminent among cities. With the adoption of the city charter in 1847, five schools were established. From this nucleus has grown the present comprehensive system of nearly sixty schools, including three large and well equipped high schools. The public schools are under the control of a school board, made up of one director from each ward in the city. In addition to the public schools, there are many parochial and private schools, fully two-fifths of the children attending school in the city being of this class. With institutions for higher education Milwaukee is also well supplied. The Milwaukee-Downer College is one of the oldest colleges for women in the United States. The largest of the Wisconsin state normal schools is located in Milwaukee, while there are three theological seminaries, the Wisconsin Conservatory of Music, and two medical and dental colleges. One of the most valuable adjuncts to the educational department of the city is the Public Library and Museum, in which is housed a library of 140,000 volumes. The public museum is supported entirely by the city of Milwaukee, never having been the beneficiary of any money donations, though many specimens are donated by citizens. While nearly every city in the United States has a public library, few have public museums. The Milwaukee museum is probably the largest and finest of its class in the United States. An exposition of the Natural History of Wisconsin in particular and of the United States as a secondary matter are its main objects, but its foreign collections are quite extensive. Special prominence is given to groups showing the life histories of birds and mammals. The entire museum contains specimens valued at over a quarter of a million of dollars.

ST. CHARLES HOTEL.

There are 83 newspapers and periodicals and there are in ample supply institutions and enterprises expressive of ethical development, education, benevolence and social progress.

PARK SYSTEM.

Milwaukee has a most admirable park spstem, which, in its present beauty and perfection, represents the work of but ten years. The system is under the control of a park board created by the Wisconsin legislature and is composed of many small parks distributed to all parts of the city, rather than a few large parks. The largest are Lake Park, consisting of 124 acres with a lake frontage of about 6,000 feet; Riverside Park, overlooking Milwaukee River and connected with Lake Park by a beautiful boulevard; Washington Park, consisting of 125 acres; Sherman Park, Mitchell Park, Kosciusko Park and Humboldt Park.

CHURCHES.

Mention of the churches and religious institutions of Milwaukee should not be overlooked for there are more than 150 churches and religious organizations, representing all denominations and including prosperous branches of the Young Men's Christian Association and the Young Woman's Christian Association, both of which own large and finely equipped buildings.

FARMS AND FARMING LANDS

are the best properties to own if well located. They discount any other investments for safety and profit, and are equally desirable for the farmer and the city man. We have the best in the State, improved or unimproved.

TIMBER LANDS

which will pay the price of the land several times over in timber, also the expense of cutting, and leave the finest farming land one can find, free of cost. We have the best in Central Wisconsin.

DAIRY AND STOCK FARMS

in the now famous dairy district of Central Wisconsin. Best location and a soil about which recent report by State says "it is the best in the State or the Northwest." We have the farms in all sizes.

BUY A FARM

ON YOUR OWN TERMS.

$5 to $10 Per Acre, Large or Small Tracts.

The Nearest Cheap Land to Milwaukee is MENOMINEE COUNTY, The Garden Spot of Michigan.

50,000 acres of very best Farm and Timber Lands for sale along the line of the Wis. & Mich. R. R. We also have a 12,000 acre tract of gently rolling, heavy hardwood Land located along the Green Bay Shore and C. & N. W. R. R., surrounded by the finest and best paying farms, good roads, schools, churches, R. F. D., all within one to two hours' drive from the large cities, Menominee and Marinette. There is absolutely no better soil; growing best of grain, corn, potatoes, sugar beets, fruits and grasses; is a stock raising and a great dairy region. Menominee has six railroads and seven steamboat lines, many large mills, shops, factories, a large beet sugar factory and large wholesale houses. Markets pay higher prices than Milwaukee or Chicago. If land buyers do not find it exactly as we describe it, will refund money for trip. Daily excursions to our land. Free Map and Book. Agents wanted.

No Poisonous Drugs!  No Operations!

For the Cure of all Acute and Chronic Diseases of every description, such as neurasthenia, epilepsy, gout, rheumatism, sciatica, chronic catarrh of the respiratory organs, diseases of the lungs, asthma, diseases of the stomach, liver, heart and kidneys, diseases of the abdominal organs, etc.—Diseases of woman and children receive a careful and strictly individualizing treatment by MRS. DR. H. PETERS, who has had forty years' experience along that line and is an expert in Gynecology. Women needing treatment will do well to consult her.

The usefulness of our new inventions, the Electro Herb-Tannin Bath, Scientific Manipulations, Health Gymnastics, Fomentations, Diet, Hot Air and Steam Baths, etc., etc., has been acknowledged by unprejudiced authority of the medical art, and those who at first placed little confidence in them ultimately praised them beyond limit at the unexpected result, since they strengthen the entire nervous system, increase the appetite, action of the skin and the tissue change, and produce a sound, refreshing sleep, which alleviates and removes many of our bodily ailments. The circulation of the blood becomes normal and soon the general feeling is one of joy, producing happiness and freshness of mind.

In leaving the Sanitarium the danger of catching cold is avoided, as the body is placed in a normal condition before leaving. Anyone may undergo the treatment without it interfering in the least with his business affairs, as night treatments are also given at the Sanitarium. Beds and furnished rooms can be obtained at all times.

A corresponding reduction will be allowed all persons of moderate means, and such without means given free treatment. To sufferers, unable to leave home, we would say that we can give treatments at home which will relieve the pain and make it possible to come to the Sanitarium to perfect the cure.

Further information will be cheerfully given on application at the Sanitarium, or by correspondence.

Consultation free.

English and German spoken.

Sure cure for Rheumatism and Gout.
The only Electro Herb-Tannin Bath in the State of Wisconsin.

A new Cellular-Therapeutics by means of Non-Poisonous Vegetable Juice.

WE WOULD RECOMMEND TO YOU THE FOLLOWING BOOKS:

"My System of Cure," (All kinds of Diseases,) - Price, 35 cents.
"Home Cure of Private Diseases by means of Non-Poisonous Vegetable Juice," - - - - Price, 35 cents.

Our R. W. PETERS, Naturopathist of experience, is prepared to give massages, scientific manipulations (Chiropractic) etc., at home of patients, when desired, or when ordered by physician in charge.

Northern Belted Spherical Dynamo.

Northern Direct Current Dynamos

For power and lighting service. Built for industrial work, to operate mills, machine shops, factories, dairies, farm machinery, in fact any sort of machinery used where it is not possible to provide the services of experienced engineers to attend to the electrical machinery.

Built to illuminate anything economically and conveniently. Built in a variety of types, and in belted and direct connected styles, so that standard machines—of which we maintain a large stock at the factory—can be used in practically every instance.

THE GENERAL APPLICATION OF NORTHERN DYNAMOS IN ALL SORTS OF WORK AND THE SATISFACTORY SERVICE GIVEN PROVE OUR APPARATUS TO BE THE KIND YOU NEED. : : : : : :

NEILLSVILLE.

Population, 2,200. Dating its settlement from 1844 and incorporated as a city in 1882, is located on the C., St. P., M. & O. Ry., at the confluence of Black river and O'Neill creek, in Clark county, of which it is the county seat, 15 miles northeast of Merrillan, and 66 northeast of La Crosse. The city is lighted by electricity, has an excellent system of water works, and a well equipped fire department. There are churches of the Catholic, Congregational, Episcopal, Lutheran, Methodist, Presbytrian and Unitarian denominations, lodges of the leading secret and benevolent societies, a public library, an opera house and 2 banks. The public schools are a matter of pride to the community, both for excellence and large attendance. Three weekly newspapers—Der Deutsch-Amerikaner, Republican, and Press and Times—are published. The soil of the surrounding country is a rich clay loam, specially adapted for agricultural purposes. Tel., W. U. Exp., Am. Fred Ritz, postmastr.

NEW LONDON.

Population, 3,000. An incorporated city, located on both sides of the Wolf river, at the crossing of the G. B. & W. R. R. and the Ashland div. C. & N. W. Ry., in Waupaca county, 22 miles northeast of Waupaca, the judicial seat, 39 west of Green Bay, and 140 northwest of Milwaukee. Wolf river is navigable to this point. The city is well built up, is lighted by electricity, has brick high schoolhouse completed at a cost of $26,000, a public library, Grand Opera house—finest in Northern Wisconsin with a seating capacity of 1,000—brick city hall costing $15,000, a volunteer fire department, 2 public halls, good hotels, 2 banks, and churches of the Adventist, Catholic, Congregational, Lutheran and Methodist denominations. Two weekly newspapers, the Press and Republican, are published. It is surrounded by an excellent farming country, the products of which are extensively shipped by local produce and commission firms, and together with the products of its factories make it an important point in this particular on either of the lines of railway which enter the city. Tel., W. U. Exp., Am and U. S. Telephone connection. John C. Freeman, postmaster.

OSHKOSH.

Population, 31,000. Is the county seat of Winnegabo county, the third largest county in point of population in the state. It is located on the west shore of Lake Winnebago, where the Fox river empties into the lake. The Fox river being navigable from Green Bay to Oshkosh and points beyond gives the city direct shipments by water to and from the great lakes, and this, with the fact that it is located on the main line and Ashland division of the C. & N. W. Ry., the C., M. & St. P. Ry., and the Wisconsin Central Ry., makes it a center of production and distribution for the northern part of Wisconsin, the upper peninsula of Michigan and portions of Minnesota and Iowa. The supply of pine and hardwood of the state is within easy access and the wood working industries of the place are therefore rapidly increasing. At present they include saw mills, planing mills, sash, door and blind factories, furniture factories, chair factories, coffin factories, bank and office furniture factories, trunk, wagon and carriage factories, and also match factories. Oshkosh produces, for instance, more sash, doors and blinds than any city in the world, and the annual value of this product, togther with the lumber cut, the latter being now quite small, amounting to over $3,000,000. In addition to the above list of industries, the city has boiler works, shingle machine and saw mill and wood working machinery shops, machine shop, pump factories, automobile factory, gasoline launch and sailing yacht plant, vinegar works, breweries, stone yards, lime kilns, logging tool factories, mattress and spring bed factories, fancy glass works, three trunk factstorage machinery. It is also becoming an important wholesale point, and now has wholesale grocery houses, paper and notions, boots, shoes and rubber goods, leather and findings, spices, sporting goods, and is a distributing point for one of the largest packing houses in Chicago. The press is represented by the Northwestern (daily and weekly), The Times (daily and weekly), the Wisconsin Telegraph (weekly), The Oshkosh Observer (weekly) and the Christian Union (monthly). Several first-class hotels cater to the wants of the traveling public. Among them the Athearn Hotel is one of the best in the state, with all modern improvements, erected and furnished at a cost of over $130,000. There are also the Revere and Tremont. Yatchting is one of the great features on Lake Winnebago, and the annual regattas of yachts and ice boats are largely attended. This place is a favorite resort for sportsmen during the period when wild duck and teal are in season, while bass, pickerel and pike are found here in large quantities. The educational facilities are of a superior order, the school buildings are among the finest in the state, a state normal school being located here, and the city is becoming notably prominent for the liberal and careful manner in which such matters are supported and maintained. The Oshkosh Business College, one of the leading commercial colleges of Wisconsin, is located here. The city contains seven banks, with capital of over $1,500,000, and with deposits of about $4,500,000. The different religious denominations are numerously represented, and the majority possess handsome and imposing places of worship. Has three hospitals that are equal to any in the state. The city is lighted by electricity and gas, has asphalt, brick and cedar block pavements on all the principal streets, has a splendid system of sewerage, the Holly system of water works, a well equipped and efficient fire department, telephone exchanges and all the facilities and requisites of a modern metropolitan city. Three electric interurban roads, connect Oshkosh and Neenah on the north, Oshkosh and Omro on the west and Oshkosh and Fond du Lac on the south. The total mileage is 45 miles and the systems represent a cost of half a million dollars. In addition, a city system affords most excellent service. The city is well provided with theaters, hall, etc., and has an opera house with a seating capacity of 1,200, a government building that cost $100,000, a city hall that cost $75,000, a high school costing $100,000, and a public library that represents in expenditures of $100,000. Our small portable rigs are designed and adapted to any kind of light work. They are made in sizes from one horse power upwards and can be placed on wheels or trucks when desired at an additional expense. They can be moved to the work instead of bringing the work to the engine. They are especially adapted to running cream separators, churning and any kind of dairy work, pumping, sawing wood, grinding feed, running corn shellers, dynamos, or any work where it is desired to move the engine.

The amount of gasoline used is only according to the work taken from the engine. The speed of the engine can be changed to suit the requirements by adjusting the governor spring.

PORTAGE.

Population, 6,500. The judicial seat of Columbia county is a city located on C., M. & St. P. and the Wisconsin Central Rys. (depots 1½ miles apart), and 71 miles south of Stevens' Point, 92 northwest of Milwaukee, 180 northwest of Chicago and 39 North of Madison. A ship canal connects the Fox and Wisconsin rivers, at this point. The site of the city was known as The Portage at a very early day, and was used by the Indians and the first voyagers to convey their canoes and batteaux from one river to the other. The city is lighted by gas and electricity and has an excellent system of water works, and a well equipped volunteer fire department. The city contains a roller process flour mill, 2 breweries, novelty factory, planing mill, 3 brick yards, a hosiery factory, shirt and overall factory, underwear factory, 2 banks, a foundry, a machine shop, good hotels, and an opera house seating 800. There are good schools, churches of the Baptist, Catholic, Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopal, Lutheran, German Evangelical, Free Methodist, German Catholic, and German Methodist denominations, and a large Masonic hall and armory combined. The Press is represented by the Portage Daily Register, Daily and Weekly Democrat, Wisconsin Rundschau (weekly German), Wisconsin State Register (weekly), and the Columbia County Wecker (weekly). Exp., National and U. S. Tel., W. U. Telephone connection.

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN.

Population, 3,500. One of the oldest places in the state, is an incorporated city located on a level prairie at the foot of the Mississippi bluffs. When first visited by the French, the prairie was occupied by a tribe of the Fox Indians under command of a chief named Chien, which signifies dog, and to this circumstance the city owes its present name of La Prairie de Chien, or the dog's plain. It occupies a splendid commercial position, the Mississippi river, the C., B. & Q. R. R. and the C., M. & St. P. Ry. (depots 1 mile apart), affording transportation facilities to all parts of the United States. Its artesian mineral wells, the waters of which contain valuable curative properties gives the city an added attraction to visitors, and brings hither many invalids. This city is the judicial seat of Crawford county, in the southwest corner of which it is situated, 194 miles west of Milwaukee and 33 northwest of Lancaster. Incorporated in 1873, it contains 2 banks, a public library high and ward schools, the St. Mary Academy for girls, the Sacred Heart for boys, and a theological seminary for the preparation of young men for the priesthood, Methodist, Congregational, Episcopal, Catholic, German Lutheran and German Evangelical churches, a public hall, a court house, water works and an efficient and well-equipped fire department. Four ably-edited and progressive weekly newspapers, the Courier (Dem.), the Press (Rep.), the Record (Dem.) and the Union (Rep.), are published. Exp., U. S. and Adams. Tel., W. U. Telephone connection. I. D. Hurlbut, postmaster.

THE "CLEAN" COMB

As the name implies, this comb is always clean. The self-acting plate through which the teeth act when in use, keeps them perfectly clean and free from hair and dirt and housed and protected against bending as well. The horse is also shielded from the harshness of the regular style of comb while the light pressure of currying brings the teeth into play in a much more effective way.

Neatly and strongly made of the best cold rolled steel, and finished in lacquer or brass plate.

A trial will convince you that this comb combines the best qualities of all other combs on the market.

FREEMAN'S IMPROVED STEEL THIRD SEAT.

SUPERIOR to all other third seats on the market. The frames are made of polished steel bars, finished in black enamel. The joint is upset to double the size of the bar, which gives great additional strength and allows the use of a steel pin twice the length used in other steel seats. It is impossible for the joint to give out or the pin to break. See the cut.

It can be used as a carriage third seat, camp chair, hassock or child's chair, and is useful in kindergarten and primary departments in general.

Population, 35,000. Is situated on the west shore of Lake Michigan, at the mouth of Root river, 25 miles south of Milwaukee and 60 miles north of Chicago, and is the county seat of Racine county. It was settled in 1834, and incorporated in 1848. Racine presents many attractions to the home seeker, the manufacturer, seeking the best location, or the capitalist looking for investment. Her fine harbor with accommodations for the largest lake vessels, gives her prestige and advantages in this respect, equal to the other lake cities. The harbor is easy of entrance, and with the docks along the river, gives the manufacturer and wholesale dealer excellent facilities for receiving and forwarding freight and merchandise. The railroads, the Chicago and Northwestern, and the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, with the lake carriers, the Goodrich and the Barry Bros. transportation companies, give ample facilities for shipment in all directions. Racine enjoys the same freight rates as Chicago and Milwaukee. The two steamship lines carry passengers and freight connecting with all points on the great lakes. Racine has three banks, three daily and six weekly newspapers.

CITY HALL.

Racine has the largest number of manufactories, in comparison with her population, of any city in the country. There are 200 different industries, many of which are large factories, employing in the aggregate upwards of 9,000 persons. Their annual pay roll is about $4,000,000, and the value of their portance and diversity of the products. utation of Racine as a manufacturing center has gone to all parts of the world and the products of her factories are everywhere recognized by their superior excellence. It is necessary to visit the manufacturing district to fully realize the importance and diversity of the products. The city is well laid out and contains many good business blocks and fine residences. The streets are broad and well paved and shade trees abound in all parts of the city. The parks are well shaded and beautiful. Racine is one of the most healthful and attractive localities in the country. The city is well lighted with gas and electricity. The fire department is most efficient.

The city is well supplied with good hotels and with excellent schools and colleges. The churches, with their fine structures, are a credit to the city. Racine has a large public library with a fine new building. There are two hospitals with all modern appliances. Racine is a city of beautiful homes, and it is said that more persons own their homes than is usual in a city of its size. The social features are all that could be desired. There is a strong Y. M. C. A. association, housed in a fine building of their own. There is also a efficient Y. W. C. Association. The postal receipts for the past year were $275,276.25 which speaks well for the intelligence and business enterprise of the people. There are two telephone exchanges here and an excellent system of electric street cars.

Racine has an unusually fine city building. The city officials, boards of education, of health and of public works, all have their offices here. The city government is excellent, the officers are Peter B. Nelson, mayor; Henry J. Schroff, clerk; Ward C. Clemons, treasurer; E. Walker, attorney; P. H.
